11. KARNATAKA STATE CHAPTER

Karnataka State Chapter established in 1982, is a vibrant and active academic body along with social and public service-oriented programs. With full life membership of 2400 and 21 city branches actively involved in all academic and social endeavors. The chapter under the leadership of Chairman Dr H V Shivaram and Secretary Dr N Chandrashekhar chalked out an inclusive annual program of events for the whole year with an aim to engage practicing surgeons, medical college/DNB teachers, rural/ urban surgeons, corporate hospitals, and PG students. KSCASI utilized the digital platform effectively to have many webinars every month apart from the physical meetings. The website, YouTube, Facebook page of KSCASI have attracted wide viewership. 41st Annual conference KSCASICON2023 was held at Kalaburagi with all grandeur and our ASI President Dr Sanjay Jain was the chief guest. A midterm conference of KSCASI was held on 12th & 13th of August 2023 at Medical College, Kolar with about 300 delegates & PG students.

Some of the very successful webinars are - passion other than Surgery, how to fight medicolegal battle, how to conduct journal club/ M & M meeting, how to select thesis topic, challenges faced by rural surgeons, recent advances in surgery, clinicopathological case discussion(CPC), laughter-the best medicine, KSCASI poet's conclave, how to face PG examination, financial planning for retiring surgeons etc.

The social service and public engagement programs by KSCASI and city branches were hugely popular - walkathon on cancer awareness, car rally on accidents & road safety, bike rally, free medical camps in rural/tribal area, free surgical camps, press meet, free endoscopy camps etc.

KSCASI promoted and popularized Surgeons Day on 25 June 2023 and henceforth it will be an annual event. All the city branches conducted excellent academic & social service programs on that day which included guest lectures, public awareness talks/ articles in newspapers, press conferences, family get togethers, honoring senior surgeons and many surgeons conducted free surgeries, health camps and free consultations. KSCASI published an eSouvenir -SURGISCOPE on the eve of Surgeons Day. International Yoga Day was celebrated in a big way. Mother's Day photo competition was very well appreciated.

Apart from regular meetings of executive committee, KSCASI held discussions and meetings with city branch office bearers also. KSCASI facilitated a virtual meeting of medical college

HODs with the vice chancellor of RGUHS and NMC member to discuss certain tricky issues and get clarification.

Two rural surgeons were awarded fellowship to get trained in advanced surgery at Bengaluru. Quarterly newsletter e-Shastra is being published regularly with excellent articles and the reports of city branches. The website of KSCASI has been updated and has a new look (www.kscasi.com). The Annual conference -42nd KSCASICON2024 -will be held at Dharwad on 9,10,11th Feb 2024 and KSCASI invites all ASI members to participate.

12. KERALA STATE CHAPTER

The reporting year 2022-23 has been as eventful as has been in the past for the Kerala Chapter. A slew of new and unique initiatives in addition to the routine programmes have been the highlight of the reporting year.

I. ANNUAL PROGRAMMES

- a. The Annual Conference of the ASI Kerala Chapter -- KASICON 2023 --was held at Kottayam on 19th, 20th and 21st of May 2023. The preconference workshop was held on 19th and the conference was on 20th and 21st of May 2023.
- b. The Annual CME of the ASI Kerala Chapter was held at MES medical college at Perinthalmanna on September 30 and October 1st of 2023 under the leadership of our national Executive Committee member Dr Muhammed Ismail.
- c. The annual peripheral meet of the ASI Kerala chapter 25th and 26th of February 2023 at Malabar Medical College, Calicut.

II. ANNUAL TRAINING PROGRAMMES

- a. CALSURGE 2023, April 29, 30 – a two-day training programme for exam going surgery residents. The programme included case presentations, ward rounds and short topic by experts from the corresponding fields. The programme was organised by the department of general surgery medical college Calicut. The programme was attended by 142 postgraduates from Kerala, Tamilnadu and Karnataka. A hands on suturing and stapling training session was also arranged as part of the programme

- b. M L Dathan Memorial PG CME – the annual PG teaching programme based on clinical case discussion and allied topic presentations was held on November 26th 2023 at Trissur jubilee medical college. The programme was attended by 88 postgraduates from various parts of the state.

III. OTHER UNIQUE PROGRAMMES ORGANISED BY THE ASI KERALA STATE CHAPTER

- a. MUSINGS -- The Kerala State Chapter of ASI has initiated a new programme – SURGICAL MUSINGS – a platform to discuss non-surgical issues of significance and interest for surgeons. The programme was kick started on Wednesday, July 5th 2023 as an online programme. MUSINGS is envisaged as a weekly programme at 09:00 pm every Wednesday. Through the programme we intend to cover topics that are of relevance to surgeons and doctors, but are not conventional surgical topics usually discussed in scientific forum. Over the last 18 weeks we have been able to bring eighteen speakers from various walks of life including surgeons, layers, economists, pilots and literary figures from various parts of the country to talk to us on various topics ranging from retirement plan to legal issues to financial planning for surgeons. We intend to include talks on life stye, hobbies, history, travel etc. in this weekly programme in the coming weeks.
- b. BREASTATHON 2023 -- ASI Kerala State Chapter decided to come up with a novel programme called BREASTATHON 2023 during the month of October this year. The aim of the programme was to generate awareness about breast cancer among the public and to highlight the significance of early diagnosis and surgical treatment to the public. We decided to come together, join hands and operate on breast cancer patients on Saturday 28th October 2023. The idea was that it will put across a strong message to the society that we, the surgical fraternity of the state, stand united in our fight against breast cancer. All surgical centres in the state were requested to join the initiative and an online campaign was initiated. We were able to bring together all like-minded institutes and surgical centres in the state for this common and noble cause. Forty-four centres, including medical colleges, cancer centres and corporate hospitals participated in this programme on 28th October 2023 by operating on breast cancer cases on that day. We were able to operate on 110 breast cancer cases on the day across the state which brought in publicity to the state chapter and highlighted the significance of surgery in breast cancer among the public. The programme was well covered by the print and visual media.

- c. THE TEACHERS OF THE FUTURE -- Conventionally we do have competition based on case presentations, judged by senior post graduate teachers. But the teachers of the future has a format where both the roles are played by the students. The format of the programme is such that a team of postgraduates from a particular college presents the case and another team of students from another college sits as examiners and vice versa. The session would be chaired and judged by a team of senior teachers. The judging was done not only based on the ability to present case and answer questions pertaining to their case but also based on the ability to ask questions and carry forward the discussion when they were assigned the role of teachers during the case presentation of the other team. The programme was initiated this year by the state chapter and 16 teaching institutes took part in the competition. After the preliminary rounds in which the teams contested among themselves, two finalists were selected. The final round was held during the annual conference and the best team was selected and awarded. The final was witnessed by our nation president Dr Sanjay Kumar Jain and he opined that it was a unique initiative to be emulated by other states. He also congratulated the state chapter for the out of the box thinking and hoped that it would continue next year as well. The state chapter has decided to make it an annual event and name it in the honour of Prof M N Sasikumar who expired in June 2023, who was one of the brains behind the programme when he was the head of the department of medical college Kottayam.
